

SPR Packaging Leverages PECAS Vision ERP Software to Deliver High Quality Goods and Premium Service

An investment in technology underpins a business strategy of growth through superior value.

Chicago, IL – June 17, 2009 - Radius Solutions Ltd., the leading integrated Business Information Management provider for the Packaging and Printing industry announced that SPR Packaging is leveraging its PECAS Vision software suite to manage the company's business operations.

Headquartered in Rockwall, Texas, and founded in 2006, SPR Packaging is a rapidly growing flexible packaging provider of a variety of multi-layer printed film and roll stock products serving a variety of clients in the food, ice, industrial and lawn and garden markets. The organization is committed to providing high quality, cost-effective products and excellent service to its customers. SPR's team of experienced executives made the strategic decision when starting up the operation to leverage a state-of-the-art ERP system to help them achieve their business objectives. They also wanted to lay a foundation for ongoing rapid growth. After evaluating several generic and industry specific solutions, they selected PECAS Vision, from Radius Solutions in late 2007 and went live on the system in Spring 2008.

"The system is helping us accomplish what we expected. The production scheduling, materials resource planning and inventory control capabilities are very strong. By leveraging this technology we have substantially reduced our administrative and working capital costs.," said Steven Rosenberg, President of SPR Packaging.

The company also has plans to continue to improve efficiencies and leverage additional elements of the system in areas such as wireless scanning of inventory and the addition of executive dashboarding capabilities. "SPR's strategic use of technology combined with their rapid growth will enable PECAS Vision to add a tremendous amount of value to their organization over time. We are delighted to have them as a client," said David Taylor, President and CEO of Radius Solutions.
